Company's Philanthropic Endeavors Recognized

Reston Limo Scores With National Industry Honors

Dulles, Virginia: Reston Limousine, the Dulles corridor-based transportation company headed by President and CEO Kristina Bouweiri of Leesburg, recently received the prestigious Community Service Award at the nation's largest limousine show and conference.

Held Oct. 19-22 in Atlantic City, the annual Limo Digest Show brings together thousands of owners, fleet representatives, and affiliated businesses for the country's premier limousine fleet providers trade show. Bouweiri, who owns the 130-vehicle fleet Reston Limousine with her husband, William, received the Community Service honors, one of three major recognitions, culminating the show at its 13th annual awards banquet.

Founded in 1990, Reston Limousine has a proud legacy of community outreach, providing services and support to many charitable and not-for-profit organizations. Its primary focus is on disadvantaged children, health care, and education, but the company's generosity extends to community groups, arts organizations, and area charities. Each year Reston Limousine donates over $150,000 in services and cash and over 1,500 man-hours to worthy causes in the metropolitan Washington, DC area.

Bouweiri says that while charitable contributions are morale builders within an organization and may lead to future business, the most important aspect of donating services to worthy causes is that "it's the right thing to do."

The company's generosity has been recognized in corporate and non-profit circles. She has received honors from the Fairfax County Arts Council for support of the International Children's Festival at Wolf Trap. The Committee for Dulles honored her philanthropic efforts, and numerous entrepreneurial organizations have cited her business savvy. The Washington Business Journal recognized Reston Limousine's philanthropy by listing the company in its Top 25 "Circle of Community Investors."

Reston Limousine compensates its staff for their work when the company donates services to worthy causes, and the good will atmosphere generated by these deeds is a motivational employee benefit. Reston Limousine also allows staff to take time off for volunteer service, sending an important message throughout the company that Reston Limousine cares for the community.

About Reston Limousine:
